

Inkjet Printing Tips

Select normal print/image quality and a plain or photo paper setting. Most of our inkjet products can be printed with dye-based, pigment or sublimation inks. Pigment inks such as Epson Durabrite and UltraChrome inks are more water resistant and are recommended for maximum durability/washability. The majority of inkjet printers come with dye-based ink as standard*.

*If the finished product will be washed then we recommend using pigment inks. If you currently use dye-based inks then it may be possible to convert your printer to pigment inks – contact your printer or ink supplier for more information.

